Abortion Care is a Love Letter to the Community
(a zine by Trust Women <3)
Accessible abortion care is a love letter to the community!

With access to these essential services, people are happier, healthier, and build more fulfilling lives.
When communities have access to abortion care, they have the right to shape their lives, their futures, and their communities.

Deciding when to have a child supports the mental health and happiness of parents and their ability to care for the people they love.

Having a child can be a meaningful life event for many people — and everyone deserves to determine if and how they become a parent.
REPRODUCTIVE allows people to achieve their goals.

FREEDOM LIKE graduating from school, finding better housing or securing a promotion BEFORE becoming a parent.
Removing barriers to access helps counteract the inequalities faced by people of color, immigrants, and 2SLGBTQIA+ people.

Providing necessary, quality healthcare supports everyone in our community to create abundant, limitless futures.
Liberating abortion care is an act of love and a public good.

“For communities and families to be healthy and thriving, we have to interrupt criminalization and build additional capacity for mutual aid and community care and fundamentally change how we understand, provide and access care.”
Access to information and reproductive care, including abortions, allows us to grow healthier as individuals and together.

Abortion care providers nurture the communities they serve and honor our rights to autonomy, reproductive justice, and community health. We love our local abortion providers!
Illustrated by
Allie Feigeles / @alliefeigeles
Michelle Furry / @ghoul.dear
Micala GG / @heavysoftarts
Meghan Wolfe / @mghn wolfe
Annika V.

quote from "Abortion Decriminalization is Part of the Larger Struggle Against Policing and Criminalization."

Trust Women
trustwomen.org